Served two terms on the AHRMM Membership Committee, most recently in 2019.

EDUCATION:

Masters of Business Administration
University of Washington

Bachelor of Science
University of Utah
Sociology

CANDIDATE STATEMENT:

AHRMM was the first organization that I became a part of when I entered the supply chain profession 20 years ago. The education and certification that I received has helped me get to this point in my career as an executive supply chain leader. I have had the opportunity to serve on the Membership Committee of AHRMM twice encouraging and supporting dozens of supply chain professionals to obtain their CMRP. I feel that now is the right time for me personally and professionally to take this next step in my involvement with AHRMM and run for an advisory board member.

FOCUS:

Given my past involvement and advocacy of advancing the profession and the professionals in Supply Chain, I'm passionate in supporting AHRMM's strategic pillars of Development, Voice and Impact.

Development of our supply chain professionals and enhancing their acumen is key in this changing environment.

Advocacy of the profession is also very important in a post-COVID world as supply chain disruption, pandemic preparedness and trade issues become the norm

Governance is key in order to stay focused on the execution AHRMM's goals and keeping members and chapters engaged through good times and in bad times.
