Affiliate Candidate AHRMM Advisory Board

I have had the privilege and good fortune to have multiple mentors in my healthcare career. Strong leadership, education and collaboration have been key principles in my growth. Being an active leader in many healthcare associations, I have worked diligently with healthcare professionals that share those beliefs. The future of healthcare and the continuing emergence of supply chain professionals as strategic thought leaders is a key metric in the success of the Cost, Quality and Outcomes (CQO) movement. In leading the Florida Chapter of AHRMM, our mission has always been to provide relevant education within the state of Florida which support the core values of AHRMM. We are continuing to explore new innovative ways to communicate and provide content. Our suppliers and providers work closely together with integrity and mutual respect. Our education is developed for all our partners and members. We expanded our chapter to meet the needs of providers, and help leadership develop talent and future leaders. I have also led strategic partnerships with various organizations within and outside of healthcare to learn how other industries are tackling similar challenges. Supply Chain should strive to align itself with all aspects of a healthcare system to truly impact Cost, Quality and Outcomes.

VISION

- ◆ Develop relevant and visionary education to our provider and supplier members.
- ◆ Embody and promote collaboration
- ◆ Support and develop affiliated chapters
- ◆ Develop strategic alliances with other healthcare associations and create new learning opportunities
- ◆ Help develop future healthcare leaders
- ◆ Explore supply chain organizations outside of healthcare and learn best practices
- ◆ Promote innovation and new ways to reach our members
- ◆ Promote supply chain professionals as thought leaders and strategic partners within the healthcare profession.

I look forward to serving the AHRMM Advisory Board, you, and ultimately the patients you serve while advancing the CQO Movement.

I thank you for your vote and consideration!
